Prompt: COVID-19 has brought new challenges and the social aspect of college life that many students looked forward to has been “taken away” as a result. A significant amount of students currently use Discord, and with the platform we see an untapped market. ASUHWO decided to make a Discord server to help students stay in touch during this tough time, no matter where they are. Giveaways are a great way for students to connect because they allow students to feel important while allowing them to have something to look forward to during this tough time. All current University of Hawai‘i-West ‘Oahu students who make a Discord account and join our server are eligible to win a prize, winners will be randomly selected and contacted through their university email.
